propelled by an engine and then left to advance on its own sultana, sultana's loneliness and despair get objectified in her desire for a salwaar that she needs to complete her black ensemble.

Hasan Manto's short story, "Thanda Gosht," explores the despairing truth whenever she saw a carriage that had been seen by many. The story features a protagonist who is haunted by her past and dreams of a more promising future. Manto's narrative abilities are on full display as he weaves a tale that is both poignant and powerful.

On 4 March 1999, "Kali Theatre Company" produced "Kali Shalwar" in London, directed by Fareeda Mehta and starring Sadiya Siddiqui, Irrfan Khan, Kay Kay Menon, and Vrajesh Hirjee in the main roles. The film is based on several short stories by Saadat Hasan Manto, who was deeply saddened by the sheer devastation caused by the partition of 1947.

Manto was a great short story writer of South Asia in Urdu, born on May 11, 1912. He was a resident of Paproudi Village in Ludhiana District of the Punjab. Manto's short stories like "Thanda Gosht" and "The Black Garment" resonate with themes of love, loss, and the complexities of life.
